

GEORGIOS A. PANETSOS

Georgios A. Panetsos (DiplArch, NTUA, 1984, summa cum laude - MArch, Harvard University, 1986) is Professor of Architecture and Urban Design at the University of Patras, Greece, and editor of the international review Domés.

He has been advisor on architecture and urban design to the Mayor of Athens (1991-94) and the City of Rotterdam (1993-95). In 1996 he published a proposal for the urban restructuring of Metropolitan Athens. Along its lines he organized the Hellenikon International Competition (2003-4).

He has been organizer of 4 and juror at 5 international competitions, curator of architecture exhibitions (including two on the Parthenon and the Acropolis Restoration), and member of the Board of several institutions.

His research and writing focus on contemporary design and theory in relation to history and context. His practice has received numerous honours, including 9 prizes in 9 architectural competitions. His work and writings have been exhibited and published internationally.